

[Isis] in Scripture and [Isis] in modern society Tracing back to Nimrod and Babel/Babylon

Nimrod, known in Egypt as Osiris, was the founder of the first world empire at Babel, later known as Babylon (Gen 10:8-12; 11:1-9).

Semiramis, also known as Ishtar and [Isis] was BOTH Nimrod's mother and wife. She was the daughter of Cush, so in reality she was Nimrod's older sister. By incest with Cush she became Nimrod's mother.

Where Nimrod was worshiped as the "sun god", Semiramis was worshiped as the "moon goddess". After Nimrod's death (+-2167 BY (Before Yahusha)), Semiramis promoted the belief that Nimrod was a [god]. Semiramis bore a son, who was named Horus or Gilgamesh, and is also known as Tammuz. She declared that she had been visited by the [spirit of Nimrod], who left her pregnant with the boy. Horus, she maintained, was [Nimrod reincarnated]. With a father, mother, and son; a [deceptive], [perverted trinity] was formed. With time, the father Nimrod was practically overlooked and worshiped only as the "god-incarnate" son in his mother's arms. In other words, the father became invisible and was no longer worshiped, whereas the mother, with the "god-incarnate" son in her arms became the grand object of worship. Numerous Babylonian monuments show the "goddess-mother" Semiramis with her son in her arms.

Under her title, "mother of the gods", the "goddess queen" of Babylon became an object of [universal] worship.

In Egypt, as the "queen of heaven" she was the greatest and most worshiped of all the divinities. During Egyptian bondage, the Israelites repeatedly departed from the one true invisible ELOhim (Almighty) and worshiped the pagan mother. When the Israelites fell into apostasy under King Solomon, they worshiped this mother goddess as Ashtaroth (Asherah) - a name by which the pagan Babylonian goddess was known to the Israelites. (Judges 2: 11-13)

Later, during the time of the prophet Jeremiah, the Jews worshiped the queen of heaven so devoutly that they could not be convinced to give up this paganism even after Jerusalem had been burnt and the land desolated due to this very pagan worship. (Jeremiah 44:15-19)

Worship of mother and child spread from Babylon to the ends of the earth, but were called different names in the languages of the various counties where they were worship.

The Egyptian mother and child were worshiped as [Isis] with the infant [Osiris] or [Horus] seated on his mother's lap.

In Canaan they were worshiped as [Ashtoreth/Astarte] and [Molech/Baal].

The ancient Germans worshipped the virgin [Hertha] with the child in the arms of his mother.

The Scandinavians called her [Disa] pictured with her child.

In India, the mother and child were called [Krishna], and also [Isi] and [Iswara] as they are worshiped to this day.

In Asia, they were known as [Cybele] and [Deoius].

In pagan Rome as [Fortuna] and [Jupiter].

In Greece as [Ceres] - the great mother with babe at her breast, or as [Irene] the goddess of peace, with the boy [Plutus] in her arms. They were also worshiped as [Aphrodite] and [Adonis].

Even in Tibet, China, and Japan, Jesuit missionaries were astonished to find the Roman counterpart of [Madonna] and child. [Shing Moo], the holy mother in China was portrayed with a child in her arms and a glory around her.

Semiramis (also known as [Isis]) was also worshiped as . . .

the "Goddess of Love", known as [Venus] and [Aphrodite];

the "Goddess of Hunting & Childbirth", known as [Diana] and [Artemis];

the "Goddess of Crafts, War & Wisdom", known as [Minerva] and [Athena];

the "Goddess of Growing Things", known as [Ceres] and [Demeter];

the "Symbol of the Fertile Earth", known as [Terra] and [Gaea];

the "Protector of Marriage & Women", known as [Juno] and [Hera];

the “Goddess of the Hearth”, known as [Vesta] and [Hestia]; and as the “Wife and Sister of Kronos”, known as [Ops] and [Rhea].

In the seventh century C.E., when Rome sought to harness the power of the great population of [Ishmaelites] in the desert, and use them to purge Jews and Messianic believers from the set-apart land, they groomed a young man named [Mohammed] to lead them. They were the creators of the [religion of Islam] with the [”moon goddess”, Ashteroth (Semiramis), ALSO known as (Isis)] as their [god], known as [Allah].

We see the crescent of the moon (associated with the “Moon Goddess/Isis/Queen of Heaven”), as a symbol of Islamic worship. Crescents appearing together with a star or stars are a common feature of Sumerian iconography - the crescent usually being associated with the “moon god” Sin (Nanna to the Sumerians), and the star (often identified as Venus), with Ishtar (Inanna to the Sumerians). However, in this context, there is a third element often seen, that being the sun disk of Shamash. The star and crescent was also the emblem of Mithradates VI Eupator. “His royal emblem, an eight rayed star and the crescent moon, represented the dynasty’s patron “gods”, Zeus Stratios, or Ahuramazda, and Men Pharmacou, a Persian form of the native “moon goddess”. Other scholars have suggested that the star and crescent are more directly related to the cult of the “god” Mithra. By the late Hellenistic or early Roman period, the star and crescent motif had been associated to some degree with Byzantium. If any “goddess” had a connection with the walls in Constantinople, it was Hecate. Hecate had a cult in Byzantium from the time of its founding. Like Byzas in one legend, she had her origins in Thrace. For example, some Byzantine coins of the 1st century BY[C] and later show the head of Artemis with bow and quiver, and feature a crescent with what appears to be a six-rayed star on the reverse. In the Middle Ages, the star and crescent was not associated with Islam, and does appear in Christian iconography. The use of the crescent symbol (without the star) on Muslim flags is first seen by Europe during the Crusades. Flags showing crescents appear in depictions of flags from the 14th century, in the Libro de Conoscimiento and the Catalan Atlas.

Do we see the DISTINCT CONNECTION between . . .

- (1) Isis (Islamic State);
- (2) Isis (the “moon goddess”);
- (3) Islam; and the
- (4) Crescent of the Moon?

What is the CONCLUSION of [Semiramis/Isis/Queen of Heaven] . . .

Rev 17:1-5 And one of the seven messengers who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying to me, “Come, I shall show you the [judgment] of the great whore sitting on [many waters], with whom the [sovereigns of the earth] committed [whoring], and the [inhabitants of the earth] were made drunk with the wine of her whoring.” And he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast covered with names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. And the woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, holding in her hand a golden cup filled with [abominations and the filthiness of her whoring], and upon her forehead a name written, a secret: BABEL THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE WHORES AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

Rev 14:7-8 saying with a loud voice, “Fear Elohim and give esteem to Him, because the hour of His judgment has come. And worship Him who made the heaven and the earth, and sea, and fountains of water.” And another messenger followed, saying, “[Babel is fallen], is fallen, that great city, because [she] has made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her whoring.”
